Watch was running at time of examination. Condition of movement not assessed, Authenticity: This watch cannot be correctly identified or confirmed as authentic due to heavy modifications. The 26mm Datejust was not offered in this combination. The diamond bezel was only offered on the two-tone gold and stainless steel watch. There were no diamond Set lugs on a stainless steel model. Our research indicates no factory issued diamond dial in this format and of this period (before 1998) . All known factory issued black diamond dials had minute markers and/or the diamonds were Set in yellow gold. The bracelet on this watch is stainless steel, however the codes on the clasp indicate it was for a yellow gold bracelet. Movement not examined and bracelet not removed. Due to aftermarket modifications, Rolex would likely not service this watch or confirm authenticity of any Individual parts. "
